Chamber of Commerce Will Elect Officers At Monday's Meeting

New Plans Will Be Made For Christmas Events And Decorations

The Chamber of Commerce will elect new officers at a dinner meeting scheduled for 7:15 p.m. Monday at the Ruralite.

Instead of sending mail ballots out this year, the present officers decided to hold the election of the new leaders at the meeting Monday. The nominating committee will list prospective candidates and the vote will be taken the same night, Ralph Gresens, executive secretary, said.

Plans will be made at this meeting for the Christmas program. The parade and party last year was a big success, and the Board of Directors has made tentative plans for an even better party this year, Gresens said.

Among the matters to be decided are whether Santa will be invited to make a pre-Christmas visit to Antioch; whether there shall be a parade; and whether there shall be new Christmas decorations.

Thought will be given to a suggestion that a prize be given for the best decorated window.

The women are invited to Monday's meeting, as they will be to all evening meetings in the future.

Antioch Recreation is Burglarized of $1,000; Lake Villa Youths Held

Two Lake Villa area youths, Norman Wojcynski and Dave Walters, both 18, are scheduled to appear before Justice of the Peace Carlton Smith in Waukegan next Thursday, to answer to charges of burglarizing the Antioch Recreation of an estimated $1,000 in cash Monday.

They were held in county jail Tuesday on bonds set at $5,000 each.

The burglary occurred between 2:30 and 6 a.m., and most of that time must have been consumed in the process of opening the various coin machines and lock box at the bowling lanes on Rte. 173 west of this village.

Sheriff Stanley Christian credited Deputies Charles Larson and Leonard Hink with rapid and alert police work in apprehending the two youths within 24 hours after the burglary took place. He said the youths confessed and the money was returned to the operators of the establishment, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Gibson.

The side door of the building had been removed, but the police concluded that the door could not have been removed from its hinges while it was locked. They started to check persons who had keys to the place and this led to the questioning of Wojcynski, who lives at Lindenhurst. He had been employed at the lanes for about two years.

The deputies said that Wojcynski admitted his part in the theft and implicated Walters, a resident of Lake Villa.

Deputies Larson and Hink said that a large quantity of cash was taken from a locked box in a locker room, and the rest from coin operated machines.

Cerny Asks Rezoning For Only Three Lots To Build New Grocery

When objections to the rezoning of one of four lots at Lake Marie were registered in the hearing before the County Zoning Board last Friday, Frank Cerny of Chicago, who sought a zoning change to erect a grocery store, modified his request.

The four lots at the southwest corner of Rte 173 and Seventh avenue are all residential. Residents of the subdivision represented by Atty. Ted Larson told the Zoning Board they objected to the rezoning of one lot No. 231 because it adjoins their residential property.

In the face of this objection Atty. Peter Mellus, representing Cerny, withdrew the request for the rezoning of that lot. The Zoning Board will report its recommendation to the Board of Supervisors on Nov. 12.

The Illinois State Police force will reach its full complement of 1100 men by January 1, 1958, upon the graduation of three training classes scheduled to be held during the remainder of this year, Superintendent William H. Morris reported to Director of Public Safety Joseph D. Bibb. This includes the 500 additional men the 1957 legislature authorized at the request of Governor William G. Stratton as a part of his highway safety program.

A. T. H. S. Band Plans Concert for Nov. 15

Antioch Township High School's Concert Band will present a fall concert at 8 p.m. Friday, Nov. 15. The concert will be held in the school auditorium.

Music featured at the concert will include marches, overtures, novelties, a sacred selection, and special numbers. The band members are working hard to make this a concert that will be enjoyed by all.

Tickets are available from ATHS music students and from members of the High School Music Association. Proceeds from the concert will be used to finance part of the spring tour, Director Louis Chanette said.

Antioch Will Close Football Season at Grayslake Saturday

In Last Home Game Sequoia Lost to Lake Forest Scouts 26-0

Antioch High will close its football season playing the Conference-leading Grayslake Rams there Saturday afternoon.

Coach Robert Walther again will rely heavily on his sophomores to carry the battle as they did in last Saturday's fray against Lake Forest, another top-ranking conference team which, although held scoreless in the first half, powered through to a 26-0 victory in the final quarters.

Flu kept some of the upperclassmen out of the Antioch lineup.

Coach Walther commented that this was the first game this season that the squad has shown any pep. Penalties nullified two Lake Forest touchdowns in the first half. In the third quarter Greg Wuhs of the Scouts scored for the first two touchdowns, running a 75-yard kickoff return for one, and sweeping end for 10 yards for the other.

Freddie Vonder Linden kicked both extra points.

The final two touchdowns in the fourth period were made by Dick Verbeke on passes from Vonder Linden.

Antioch made her greatest scoring threat in the fourth quarter when the Sequoia drove 64 yards to the Scouts 26-yard line.

Lake Forest made 10 first downs to Antioch's 7.

Defensively, Kuhlman for Lake Forest and Davis for Antioch played outstanding games.

Bus Cote, Antioch passer, did a fine job under protection, but was rushed most of the night.

Coach Walther started the game with mostly sophomores and juniors, leaving the seniors on the bench. Spirit of the Antioch underclassmen

Lions View Pictures On Duck Hunting Here

The Antioch Lions Club dined at Smart's Country House Monday evening and saw a movie on duck hunting taken at Deer Lake and shown by Dr. James Kopriva.

The members discussed plans for selling Christmas trees as a project of the club.

A summary report on the swimming pool for the past summer showed satisfactory operation. A few more season tickets will be offered for sale next year.

Judge Goes To Court

William McNeil Anderson, a justice of the peace at Salem, Wis., was scheduled to face a judge in County Court at Kenosha today to answer to a charge of issuing a worthless check. Mrs. Eva Thibedeau, owner of the Kenosha Kennels, charged that Justice Anderson gave her a check for $35 on a Chicago Bank Sept. 26, when his account with the bank had been closed Sept. 19.

Public Will Attend Dedication, Opening Of New Moose Home

Earl W. Horton, Mooseheart, To Be Speaker at Saturday Program

A large crowd is expected to attend the dedication of the new home of the Antioch Loyal Order of Moose at 877 Main St. Saturday.

Open house will be held from noon until late night with the dedicatory service set for 8 p.m.

Earl W. Horton, membership conservation director from Mooseheart will give the dedicatory talk. Many members of Moose lodges in surrounding areas are expected to be present. At night there will be dancing to music by Ken Kirchmeyer's orchestra with Mrs. Kirchmeyer at the organ.

The event is public. Members are proud of the new and larger quarters, most of which were prepared by volunteer labor, and want the public to see it.

Formerly owned by Louie Bower, the Moose building valued at $50,000 contains a lodge room 30 x 60 feet in dimension and a club room of similar size. An upper floor has been converted into private apartments.

Morris Verkest is governor of the lodge. Less than 10 years old, the Antioch lodge has made remarkable strides in its growth. Already it has taken its place among the prominent organizations having a definite effect on community social and welfare activities.

Wilmot to End Season At Home Friday in Game With Burlington

Wilmot High will end its football season on her home field tomorrow playing Burlington.

The Panthers lost a close one to Delavan 12-9 in a Dad's Night exhibition last Friday.

Coach Frank Bucci described the Delavan Comets as a good defensive club and mighty rough.

Pounding out short gains of three and four yards the Comets carried the ball 59 plays to Wilmot's 38.

Delevan scored first on a long march of 19 plays which netted 74 yards including five first downs. Fullback Fred Escher plunged over from the three-yard line. His kick for the extra point was blocked.

The Comets scored again in the third period after Wilmot fumbled on the Delevan 35-yard line. Escher sprinted the 35 yards for the touchdown.

Late in the game the Panthers took over the ball on Delevan's 35-yard line and marched to the five, where Greg Bush passed to Wally Partenheimer for the touchdown. Bob Snarski plunged for the extra point.

Earlier, Wilmot got as far as the Panther 15, only to fumble the opportunity.

Wilmot has one league victory, three losses, and two ties.

Antioch Area Firms Victims of Teenage Thefts Police Learn

The Gamble store here and the Joseph Patrovsky farm on County Trunk C near Trevor, Wis., were among the victims of petty thievery which Kenosha County police say three boys have admitted. Because the three are to appear in juvenile court their names were not released by the court.

One of the boys, aged 17, is from Trevor and the other two, 17 and 18, are from the Cross Lake area.

All three admitted to Investigator Floyd Hughes of Kenosha County they had stolen gasoline from the Patrovsky farm—45 gallons on one occasion and 10 gallons on two other occasions.

The older Cross Lake youth told Hughes he had taken loot with a total value of $102. This included two boxes of shotgun shells, a $10 bill from top of cash register, and a padlock from the Gamble store, five boxes of shotgun shells from several stores in Waukegan, a pair of gloves from a Salem hardware store, and a case of pop from a truck parked at Camp Lake.

When the three appear in juvenile court at Kenosha, Wis. it will be determined whether their case will be processed there or in a court of record.

Mrs. Gordon Volting was given first aid by the Antioch Rescue squad Saturday night at the Old Time Dance Club meeting at the Legion Home after she became ill while dancing. She is under the care of a physician.

Shunneson, Murphy To Address Legion On Boat Regulations

W. A. "Barney" Shunneson, president of the Chain of Lakes Resort Owners association will speak on "Boating Regulations and Water Safety", at the meeting of the American Legion at 8 p.m. Monday.

The association has done much to promote safety on the lakes of this area during the past year.

Rep. W. J. Murphy, a member of the post, will discuss the legal aspects of the same subject.

The post will make final plans during this meeting for the observation of Veterans Day, Nov. 11, when an open-house is scheduled.

Salem Central Wins Homecoming Contest

Keeping up its tradition of never losing a Homecoming game, Salem High won from Menomonee Falls at Salem Friday evening 21 to 0. It was the first conference victory for the Falcons and moved them from the cellar.

An effective rushing attack and a strong defense permitted no ground gains for Menomonee Falls. Art Perry, Dave Poisl and Dick Weber made the touchdowns, Poisl intercepting a forward pass, and running 27 yards for a touchdown, and the other two scoring their touchdowns on ground plays. Quarterback Ron Nelson ran the ball for one extra point and passed to Dennis Flischung for another, while the third was carried over by Dick Weber.

Tomorrow the Falcons will play at Cedarburg.

Immediately following Friday's game, a dance was held in the school gym with Wayne Konga's orchestra providing the music. About 400 people saw Dave Poisl, team captain, crown Cara Steinbeck, senior representative, as queen. Her court consisted of Pat Menting, junior class; Joan Shaw, sophomore representative; and Donna Anderson freshman candidate.

Most valuable players and captains of past football teams were introduced. Those attending were: Warren Reck, 1953; Ben Zeihen, 1955; Vincent Getka and Tom Thomas, 1956. The 1952 captain, Phil Glasman, and the 1954 captain, Leonard Wermeling, were unable to attend.

Supervisors at Work Preparing New Budget

Township Supervisor Lloyd Murrie has been at work this week with other members of the Board of Supervisors at Waukegan planning the budget for next year which is expected to set a new high.

The budget does not guarantee that the money will be spent and Murrie is hoping that some of the items will be omitted. He cited one request for two-way radios in county highway trucks. What for is anybody's guess.

The new budget does not neglect the possibility of a new County Home for which $1 million is appropriated.

August Cepcon, finance committee chairman said that 10 weeks were spent during the past summer by his committee holding budget hearings. There was indication that there would be little if any changes before the Board votes on the budget next month.

High School Board, Other Taxing Bodies Search for Tax Dollar

School Meeting Last Night Probes Ways and Means For More Income

Failing to get the approval of the district voters for an increase in the educational tax rate, the Antioch Township Board huddled with other taxing bodies at the school last night in an attempt to find ways and means of getting as many tax dollars as possible from the present rate.

Township assessors Anthony Scully, Antioch Township; Delbert Black, Lake Villa Township; and Otto Mara of Newport Township were invited to the meeting and asked their opinion as to the probability of valuation equalization.

The problem of personal property tax collection also was on the griddle, with State's Atty. Thomas Moran receiving questions as to the possibility of greater enforcement of these collections.

Sixty persons attended the meeting. The guests included, besides State's Attorney Moran, supervisor Lloyd Murrie, Antioch Township, Ed Tiede, supervisor, Lake Villa Township, assessor Delbert Black of Lake Villa, assessor Anthony J. Scully of Antioch was not present. The school administration learned that there is hope for equalization of tax valuations.

As a result of this conference a meeting will be held with state legislators of Lake County, later to study the possibility of tax reform.

Supervisor Murrie told the group that new equipment in the County Treasurers office will permit earlier issuance of tax bills.

Youthful Drivers Take Notice

The facts are in, boys, and you just don't make the grade. You, as a group between the ages of 16 and 25, think you're the world's best driver; but the low down is this... you're the country's worst. The facts are in and your insurance rate has gone up anywhere from 20 to 50 per cent.

Think it over, lads... and dads. The insurance people are no dopes. They don't care whether you're handsome and have females in a dither; they don't care whether you have a piece of junk lovingly tuned to a raceway song; they don't care if you can name every part of every motor ever built or that you can rebuild one with your eyes closed. All they care about is poor performance on the road.

Frankly, sons, your performance stinks. You as a group are a menace to society... and to yourselves. Who says so? Not us. The insurance companies say so and they know; they don't know your name and address. They don't know if you own a Ferrari or a Ford. All they care about is facts, and the facts are you have the worst road record of any age group in the country. And getting worse!

And getting worse! Think that over, fathers and mothers. Proof? Car insurance costs have gone up sharply this year only for boys in this age group. You are still boys, boys.

You aren't a man unless you can handle cars, among other things, and you aren't handling them properly, though you have plenty of know-how to do so. So, obviously, you aren't handling yourselves. That's the real answer.

Don't blame this on the insurance companies. They just go by the number of accidents, the number of arrests, the number of maimed and killed which you have strewn over the roads of this and other states.

So you as a group are experts, eh? You're suckers for your own buildup. That wouldn't matter so much if only you took the rap.

It isn't only you who gets killed or hurt... it's the girl with you, it's the guy down the street, or the lady in the next county who trusted you to act like a man. Or even like a boy who still knows he's a boy and doesn't pretend any different. Sure, you never meant that accident, and won't mean the one you're going to have. And of course it never is your fault. You have a heart of gold, are kind to your mother... and you go out on the highways and act like a fool. A real fool.

That's the truth and the insurance figures bear it out. Maybe the fifty extra bucks this year will give you pause. Of course you may be the exception that proves the rule. Certainly everyone of you isn't that bad.

But as a group you are, and what are you going to do about it? Are you going to be one of the gang that pays homage to the hot rod artist who ought to be in jail and will be soon, or dead? Are you going to go along for the ride so as not to be chicken and let some bragging twerp at the wheel gamble with your future? Are you going to encourage these "buddies" of yours to keep boosting your own cost of driving a car? What's the percentage of acting like that?

You wouldn't let this guy hit you over the head with a hammer; why let him drive you into a post? You wouldn't let him steal fifty bucks out of your pocket. Yet he's already done that this year.

And you, the worst offenders... you spoiled brats thinking you can handle 130 horsepower when you can't handle one horsepower, what are you going to do about it? Brother, get the lowdown... The girls in your age group have it all over you. Not only in looks, but intelligence, in self control, in fair play, and in their ability to handle those 130 horsepower you can't handle.

That's not our opinion; it's the considered opinion of the insurance companies. The rates for girls in your own age group have gone down, not up. They are getting to be better drivers, not worse. How does that make you feel?

For all your boasting and all your showing off and your flouting of the rules of the road, and all your reckless bravado, and all your skill (Oh, yes, we know you are skillful) you just haven't got what it takes... and that is judgment.

You haven't yet learned that the champs are not chumps. And if you don't believe the insurance companies about what lousy drivers you are, ask a champ someday... If you can face it. Don't fool yourself about the cheap adulation of the kids around you who don't know any better. And don't you think your girl is impressed by your hotshot antics the next time you take her out. She and most of your buddies have you tabbed for just what you are, a chump. They're just too polite or too scared or disgusted to tell you.

Nobody else will tell you, so we're telling you. We'll take it back when the insurance rates go back down.

If Karl Marx Were Alive Today

Karl Marx appears to have been a farsighted man. He knew that the steeply graded income tax was one way of destroying the thing he most hated, Capitalism.

So sure was he of the death-dealing powers of the "heavy progressive or graduated income tax" that he named it in his Communist Manifesto as the second of ten weapons for the destruction of national freedom.

Those who followed in his footsteps were disappointed with American version of the income tax soon after it was enacted. It didn't go far enough to suit them.

Anyone wishing to do the research can read their complaints in such articles as the one William English Walling wrote in "The Intercollegiate Socialist" for April-May, 1916.

Walling said the American system calling for a tax of one to seven per cent should be more steeply graded. He favored something nearer the British and German systems, say five per cent of taxable income above $5,000 and 20 to 33 per cent above $50,000.

Other bureaucrats have gone far beyond the wildest dreams of Socialist William English Walling. Guaged by what a dollar buys today, that $5,000 in taxable income is equivalent to $15,000. Taxable income in that bracket today is taxed by Uncle Sam at 47 per cent — not five per cent. And the $50,000 taxable income of 1916 is equivalent to $150,000, a bracket now taxed at 89 per cent — not 20 to 33 per cent.

If Karl Marx were alive today he would be happy. He would go on being happy as long as Capitalism bled itself white. Because of the income tax, it is bleeding itself white, and it will do so until the American people enact some kind of effective income tax reform such as the Sadlak-Herlong bill, and prove Karl Marx wasn't so farsighted, after all.

Mercury Reveals New 70 h.p. Outboard Motor

Kiekhaefer Corporation recently revealed 1958 horsepower ratings for its outboard motors, topped by the new six cylinder Mark 78 at 70 horsepower. This will be the most powerful outboard in the industry next year, followed by the company's 60-horsepower Mark 75. Thus, for the tenth year, Mercury will have the outboard horsepower leadership which dates back to the introduction of the 10-horsepower Lightning in 1948.

The Mark 28 and Mark 58, both new to the line, will be 22 and 45 horsepower respectively. Mercury has the industry's widest choice of power with a total of nine basic models running from 6-horsepower to the new 70-horsepower rating.

A reduction in outboard prices for the 1958 boating season averaging almost 10 percent has been announced by the Kiekhaefer Corporation of Fond du Lac, Wisconsin. Its Mercury outboards became the leading outboard brand in dollar sales in 1956.

For 1958 Mercury once again has achieved the highest horsepower per dollar, highest horsepower per pound and highest horsepower per cubic inch in industry history.

Excluding motor vehicle deaths, the No. 1 killer in 1956 of persons in the "active age" group — persons 15-44 years of age — was drowning.

Soil Conservation News

The number of pheasants and songbirds that you have around the farm depends on cover and food available, according to Elmer E. Offerman, Soil Conservationist. With the hunting season near, we are especially conscious of pheasant numbers.

Colorful, energetic songbirds add much to the enjoyment of rural life through their music and movements. The song of a mocking bird, meadowlark, or the sight of a brilliant cardinal is a thing to enjoy.

It is interesting to note that insect eating birds must fill their stomachs five to six times daily because of their rapid digestion. In a test, a young robin weighing three ounces consumed 165 cut worms weighing 5 1/2 ounces. If a 10-pound baby ate at the same rate, it would eat 18-1/3 pounds of food per day.

Birds are very beneficial on the farm because of the heavy consumption of injurious insects. However, cover and supplemental food must be furnished, Offerman pointed out, in order to have large number of birds.

Most every farm has some odd areas that could be used for cover. These areas should be planted with red pines, white pines or other adapted trees. Multi-flora rose should be planted around these areas to give added protection for birds. The rose will also serve as a fence to protect the small trees from livestock.

If a few hills of corn are left near these areas, then food would be available. There are a number of other plants such as millet, sunflower, and sorghums which make ideal food plants.

The State nurseries have planting stock available for these areas. Order blanks are available at the Soil Conservation Service in the Farm Bureau Building at Arlington Heights, Illinois. Stock should be ordered now for planting in the spring of 1958.

Exotic Essence Of Our Kitchens From Everywhere

WASHINGTON — Tucked away on a shelf in nearly every American kitchen is an exotic essence of geography.

It's contained in the familiar small tins of spices. Cloves from Zanzibar and cinnamon from Ceylon, along with the fragrant seeds, buds, leaves, berries, roots, and bark of many plants have been objects of quest since ancient times.

Spices/above all other edible substances, have helped shape the fortunes of the world. Spices have been valued above gold and used as currency. Throughout most of recorded history, spices have not only been essential to preserve and give zest to bad food; they have been needed for incense, embalming preparations, and ointments.

No longer are spices so vital to health and comfort, but they remain a valuable commodity in world trade. In the United States, where their use in cookery has sharply increased during the past decade, spices constitute a $150,000,000-a-year business.

Almost every nation contributes to American spice shelves. Excluding allspice, a product of the West Indies pimento tree, most true spices such as pepper, cassia, cinnamon, ginger, nutmeg, mace, cloves, saffron, and turmeric come from the traditional spice lands—India, Ceylon, Malaya, Indonesia, Indochina, China, and Japan.

Early Whale Port Notes Anniversary

WASHINGTON — Sag Harbor, one of America's busiest whaling ports a hundred years ago and currently one of its most picturesque seaside towns, is celebrating its 250th birthday this year.

Heyday of the village, now a popular summer resort and home of light industry, was the mid-1800's. Then the Harbor, a hundred miles east of New York City on Gardiners Bay and the "fishtail" of Long Island, was alive with activity.

Whalemen thronged the village streets. The waterfront was crowded with high-masted ships returning with whale oil and bone or waiting to be outfitted for voyages that sometimes lasted four years.

The year 1847 was Sag Harbor's busiest. Thirty-two ships brought home 605,000 pounds of bone and 68,000 barrels of oil valued at more than a million dollars.

Discovery of oil in Pennsylvania and the doom of the whalebone corset as an item of feminine apparel put an end to the whaling industry. The last whaler, the Myra, cleared Sag Harbor in 1871 and never returned. She was condemned and her cargo taken over by another ship. Her catch was valued at $32,000.

Produce Counter Big Stop for Shoppers

NEW YORK — The produce counter continues to be one of the most important stops on the American food shopper's list.

In 1956, the average person in this country consumed about 320 pounds (retail weight) of fresh fruits and vegetables, which was equal to more than a fifth of the entire food poundage used. Consumers continued to buy two pounds of the "fresh" for every one pound of processed (canned, frozen or dried) fruits and vegetables, the produce group reported.

Nowadays, a produce department will handle as many as 100 different fresh fruits and vegetables during the year. It only the most important commercial types are included. The U. S. market sees about 285 different varieties of these foods. Actually, there are 7,000 named varieties of apples; 6,000 to 8,000 varieties of grapes; over 2,000 varieties of peaches; thousands of varieties of plums, scores of different potatoes and so on. However, only a relatively small number are commercially important.

Time-Buying Need Not Mean Going in Debt

NEW YORK — "Buying on time need not mean going into debt," says a spokesman for American Finance Conference, national association of independent sales finance companies.

He points out that when a man pays $1,000 down on a $3,000 auto, he has actually acquired a capital asset rather than a $2,000 debt, since sale of the car would not only wipe out the unpaid balance but would give a cash balance.

This advertisement appeared in the Antioch News back in 1899. These might have seemed to be the good old days of low prices, but they were also the days of low wages.

Mrs. Walter Hennig, attendant at the office of Dr. A. N. Berke, was taken to Victory Memorial hospital by the Antioch Rescue Squad Tuesday afternoon after the first aid men had given her oxygen.

maintained the battle against Lake Forest, but in the second half experience of the Scouts showed up and the Sequoits were worn down.

There are 37 members on the Antioch squad but only 22 were in uniform—the rest were ill with flu or injuries.

Antioch seniors who got into the game and did a fine job were Boach and Hart, the former punting well and the latter playing defensive end. Injuries left Antioch without experienced ends after the first quarter. The guards who substituted were all inexperienced.

The starting lineup for Antioch was Armstrong (Sr.) end; Burda (Sop.) end; David (Jr.) and Studer (Jr.) tackles; Bosquist (Sop.) and Wollpert (Jr.) guards; Zelonish (Jr.) center; Pyle (Sop.) fullback; Gudgeon (Sop.) and Portalski (Jr.) halfbacks; and Cote (Jr.) quarterback.

On defense Merman (Sop.) guard; and Efferman (Sop.) halfback went into the lineup.

Antioch tried 18 passes, completed 8 or a total of 75 yards, and two were intercepted. Lake Forest attempted 24, completed 12, had one intercepted and a total yardage of 175.

On the ground Lake Forest gained 114 yards and Antioch 63.

The game was the first the two teams have played with Lake Forest a member of the Northwest Suburban conference.

Most Food Items We Prize Today Known to Ancients

NEW YORK—Most of the more than 100 fruits and vegetables we know and use in this country today, appeared on the tables of the ancients centuries before the Christian era. Many of them are among the oldest food plants cultivated by man.

During the 20 years that it took to build the gigantic Cheops pyramid at Gizeh, Egypt, in the 5th century B. C., the workers consumed about $2 million worth of onions, garlic and radishes. In the Bible, we find the exiled Israelites complaining to Moses that they sorely missed the cucumbers, melons, leeks, onions and garlic which were part of their diets in Egypt.

Seeds of the primitive green pea have been found in lake mud of areas inhabited by the Swiss lake dwellers of the Bronze Age, some 5,000 years ago. Cherry pits have been discovered in prehistoric caves.

Apricots, bananas, cabbage, grapes, peaches and dates are all believed to have been well known 4,000 years ago. Coconuts were an Asiatic delicacy at least 1,000 years before Christ and grapefruit, lettuce and plums were common by the first century A. D. Historians believe man was budding and grafting apples 2,000 years ago and oranges were mentioned in Chinese writings of 2200 B. C.

We can thank northern Asia for apples, apricots and cabbage; China for peaches, pears and persimmons; India for citrus fruits, mangos, cucumbers and eggplant; the islands of the Pacific ocean for coconuts and yams; and Arabia for dates and figs.

Throw New Light on Egg Candling Job

LOS ANGELES — Some new developments are hatching in the "egg and eye" profession.

The process of candling eggs (holding an egg between the eye and a light, originally a candle, to determine its quality and detect imperfections) has for centuries been an individualistic, if not intuitive, profession.

Now James A. Howard and Philip F. O'Brien, research engineers at the University of California, Los Angeles, College of Engineering, are making a study which might lead to more scientific ways of determining egg quality.

"By use of special instruments, we are measuring those qualities which the candler visually takes into consideration when he determines the merit of an egg," Howard said.

"We also are breaking the egg onto a flat surface and measuring the component parts, such as depth of air cell and consistency of albumen, in order to determine the actual of 'broken out' quality of the egg."

Then by correlating the "intact" quality, as determined by "instrument candling," with the "broken out" quality, the two researchers hope to make some findings which will lead to improved methods of judging egg quality.

L. D. Bever Attends Meeting at Quincy

L. D. Bever of R. 3, Antioch, District Sales Manager in this area for the Moorman Mfg. Co. of Quincy, Illinois, will be guest of the company at a large gathering of their field supervisory force on October 29 and 30, at Quincy.

He won this honor and trip through achievement of certain goals in a company campaign which progressed during the past three months. There will be some 400 managers at the meeting and the time will be occupied in trips through the company's feed-concentrate and parasite control manufacturing plant, the research laboratories, and inspection of the new dairy unit and other testing phases of the company's research farms.

There will also be sessions in which the group will be told about developments in livestock and poultry feeding and the company's plans for developing better and more complete service to feeders.

Are You "Accident Prone"?

It is well recognized that some people are "accident prone," which means there is some inner compulsion which causes them to have accidents. Now this inner compulsion is something of which they are not aware. Insurance companies have become well aware that persons who encounter several accidents are likely to have many others.

The only steps which can be taken to insure the well-being of accident-prone persons is to guard them against the "short odds" of an accident, and since the great majority of accidents happen in the home, precautions should be taken there. Switching lights on while in the bath-tub, or handling any electrical appliance is dangerous and can easily lead to electrocution. When bathing there should be a ribbed rubber or plastic mat on the bottom of the tub to avoid slipping, and another on the floor.

Stairways should be well lighted and have a guard rail. The edge of each stair, should be painted with luminous white paint to make them more visible. To guard youngsters against taking poison, all poisonous compounds should be kept out of their reach.

Small rugs, which are dangerous booby traps on polished floors, should be anchored securely. In the kitchen, a most popular place for many types of accidents, precautions should be taken to see that all sharp knives are not just thrown into a drawer, but into a knife-holder, which renders the edge harmless. The low pilot-light on the stove should be watched to prevent minor explosions which can bring painful burns. Electric wiring anywhere in the house should be checked to see if the insulation is frayed.

In spite of all warnings, "accident prone" folk still are the prey of easily avoidable incidents which many times are disastrous.

A farmer in Wisconsin has his bed made up with 14 blankets. This provides comfort for any temperature—he just crawls in at the proper level. Adjusting your speed and other behavior at night calls for 14 blanket driver control. Be sure you crawl in at the proper level depending on conditions at the moment.

Wilmot Methodists To Dedicate Church Addition in December

Typical of the present-day necessity for expanding existing facilities to accommodate increasing church membership, was the situation faced by the Methodist congregation.

To meet its urgent need for more space, church officials decided on enlarging the present church's recreational and Sunday school rooms and work was begun last July.

Dedication of the addition is scheduled for the first part of December and the final phase of the project will include improving parking facilities and landscaping the grounds behind the building.

The 30 x 60 foot addition increased the dining room dimensions from 30 x 30 to 30 x 45. The old kitchen was added onto the dining room and a new kitchen 12 x 18, with new stove, sink, refrigerator and cabinets was built. Modern restrooms are also part of the new look.

The approximate cost of the addition including equipment is $18,000, according to Ervin Rasch, chairman of the building committee which includes Geoffrey Goulding, Wayne Tilton, Frank Mack and Chester Knight. Rasch, Tilton, Knight and Mrs. Viola Sherman, Mrs. Jack Mack and Mrs. Carl Satterson are church council members.

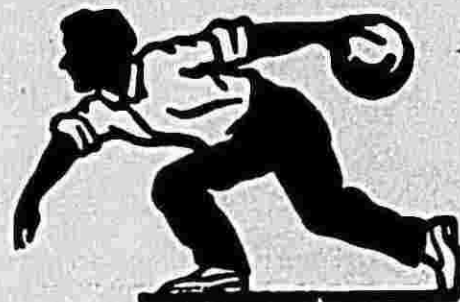

A new Lowery electric organ was purchased and installed a month ago.

Volunteer labor and decorating have speeded up the building operations while keeping costs down.

The attractive red-brick edifice on its tree-shaded street that is Wilmot Methodist was begun in June, 1876 and dedicated in November of that year by Rev. Atkinson of Waukegan, assisted by the presiding elder, Dr. Miller.

The church was 28 x 50 feet and accommodated 300 worshippers. It cost $2,650. The bell, still in use, was exhibited during the centennial at Philadelphia.

The first minister was the Rev. Blackburn, followed by Rev. A. J. Benjamin in 1879. First church trustees were J. W. Voak, C. W. Voak, J. H. Sabin, A. H. Kruckman and W. Benedict.

Thank You

Meat Pies Popular With Committee Members

WITH cool weather moving in, November finds most everyone deep in extra-curricular activities.

How well you know, there are the ever popular fund raising projects... usually carried on by community houses and churches... in the form of bazaars. Committee members and friends think nothing of devoting hours to apron making, life painting and setting up booths. Often you all take a sandwich for a quick lunch.

But why not try something different... a hot lunch... like individual frozen meat pies... beef, chicken and turkey. Choose one of the crowd to prepare a selection of these 8-ounce pies. About 40 minutes before lunch, she can slide pie into a 425° F. oven. They'll come out with a beautiful brown flaky crust and variety of vegetables. With fruit and a hot beverage, this menu will restore energy to the hard working crew. Some flavorful accompaniments... to be used at any time, are those listed below. They provide a wonderful contrast in flavor and are easy to prepare.

"GO-WITHS" FOR MEAT PIES

Cranberry Orange Sauce

Combine 1/2 cup whole cranberry sauce and 1/2 teaspoon grated orange rind in a small bowl; chill. Serve with baked beef, chicken or turkey pie. Makes 1/2 cup sauce.

Nut Cream Topping

Serve each meat pie with a dab of sour cream and a few toasted slivered almonds.

Spiced Apricots

Place as many canned apricot halves as you like, hollow side up, in low baking dish. Place 1/2 teaspoon brown sugar in each hollow. Dot with butter and sprinkle with ground cloves. Pour a little apricot juice in bottom of dish... about 1/4 inch deep. Place in a hot oven (425° F.) with pie during last 10 to 15 minutes of baking. Serve hot for a delightful combination.

According to calculations made by the Chicago office of the National Association of Manufacturers, the average Midwestern wage earner will have to work 13 weeks this year just to pay his federal, state and local taxes. This is two and one-half times as long as was required in 1929.

"Average" Job Costs $14,000

At the present time, it costs industry $14,000 to create a single average job, statistics from the Chicago office of the National Association of Manufacturers reveal. This includes investments which are required in plant, tools, equipment and training.

The Kussmann Family

Homemaking Hints

Without the aid of a fairy Godmother or mystical Genie, you can change from a harried housewife into an efficient, modern homemaker this Fall. First step is to take a mental inventory of your daily chores and apply some time-saving methods to old routines. Don't be afraid to let your family pitch in. More than likely your children would be delighted to help in the kitchen. Drying dishes won't seem half so disagreeable if occasionally you let them help prepare simple desserts and sandwiches. For laundry, shopping and serving meals, a rolling cart, or table is a must for saving unnecessary steps... Use a stool or chair with a back support for washing dishes; peeling vegetables or ironing... Waste-paper baskets and laundry bags belong in every room... A timer used for cooking will leave you free for another task while the cake is baking...

A good way to enjoy extra moments of leisure and interesting varied meals for your family, is to plan your entire menu for the week at one time. Do it after the sale ads appear in your local newspaper—you can take advantage of food bargains and, at the same time, save marketing trips every day. Remember,

WASH

It's a good idea to keep a pantry shelf well stocked with quick snacks for unexpected guests. Crackers, melba toast, potato chips, pretzels, sandwich spreads, olives, pickles and cheeses should enable you to serve on a moment's notice.

To save time and trouble, try choosing fabrics for rugs and upholstery and drapes that are easy to maintain and require little care. Many modern fabrics resist stains and clinging dust particles. Curtains and draperies now give ease to your washday as well as beauty to your windows. Modern fabrics such as Fiberglas enable you to wash curtains in a matter of minutes, let them drip dry over a shower rod or line, and rehang them at your window with absolutely no ironing.

Life Insurance Companies in U. S. Now Number 1,242

NEW YORK — Life insurance companies of the United States numbered 1,242 on June 30 of this year, an increase of 103 from a year ago and 798 more than in 1940, the Institute of Life Insurance reports.

More than 85 per cent of the more than 700 companies started since 1950 were in the South and West. These two sections of the country account for 946 of the companies now in business, the Institute says.

The figures are based on an analysis of the reports on companies licensed to do business by the insurance departments of the 48 states and the District of Columbia.

"The expansion of new companies in the South and West has been an important contributing factor in the increased ownership of life insurance in those sections, which have gained much more rapidly than the rest of the country," the Institute said.

Life insurance companies are now located in every state and 18 states have 20 or more companies. Texas leads the state list, with 338 companies domiciled there; Louisiana is second with 112; next in rank are: Arizona, 54; South Carolina, 48; Alabama, 46; Indiana, 42; Illinois, 39; Georgia, 33; Arkansas, 29; Florida, 29; Pennsylvania, 29; New York, 29.

There are 299 cities with life companies housed locally, Dallas leading with 135.

Why Students Shun Science Careers

SANTA BARBARA — Why are teenagers continuing to turn thumbs down on science careers despite increasingly tantalizing job opportunities and the growing shortage of scientists?

California's chemistry teachers in public and private schools were asked this question by University of California's Office of Relations with Schools in an effort to pinpoint causative factors in our failure to recruit needed future scientists. The essence of the straightforward replies follows:

First, there is a general dislike for mathematics and quantitative thinking.

Second, the sciences are too difficult compared with other fields that are easy to enter and pay as well or better.

Third, high school curricula overemphasize non-science activities; and the present teaching philosophy offers little encouragement for the quiet, intellectually minded student.

Fourth, the socio-economic climate doesn't foster self-discipline and intellectual attainment as compared with monetary success.

Fifth, stimulating teaching is decreasing with overcrowding and excessive work loads; and low salaries are drawing fewer dedicated teachers.

Sixth, counselors are rarely familiar with or enthusiastic about the sciences.

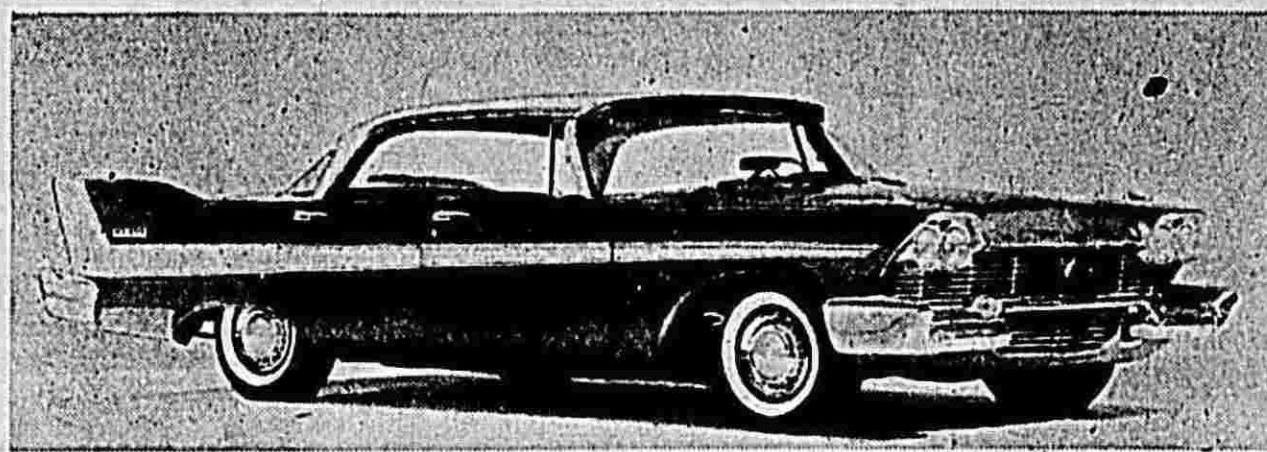

Seventh, interest is not fostered sufficiently in the lower grades.

Merino Sheep Once Belonged to Royalty

WASHINGTON — Australia is growing golden fleeces. Merino sheep, which have brought wealth to the island continent and many other countries, have now produced a mutant whose color matches its value.

Hardy animals, prized for fine wool, Merinos are believed to have originated in North Africa. The breed became famous as the monopoly of Spanish royalty, perhaps a legacy to that country from the Moorish invasion in the 12th century.

Many New Features On 1958 Plymouth

Silver Dart two-tone exterior styling trim, sweeping backward and up to the tip of the Plymouth Belvedere 4-door hardtop's familiar fins, is new with 1958 Belvedere models and Sport Suburban station wagons. The contrasting dart is available either in anodized aluminum for a striking new effect, or in compatible colors. Plymouth's outstanding Torsion-Aire suspension system and its trouble-free mechanical push button controls are retained for 1958. Six engine options, a new Constant-Control power steering system providing Plymouth's famous full-time ease of operation, a new Sure-Grip differential and a new automatic Econo-Choke are available on 1958 Plymouth cars being introduced in dealer showrooms across the nation on November 1.

A Farmer's Work Is Never Done

A motorist, after being bogged down in the sticky clay of an old deserted Georgia road, paid a passing farmer $10 to pull him out with a team of mules.

After he was on the road again he remarked to the farmer, "I should think that at that price you'd be pulling people out of this stuff day and night."

"Nope," drawled the farmer. "At night's when I tote the water for the holes."

The bedroom is the most dangerous room in the home.

An electric dryer does all this for just 6¢: 3 big bath towels, 6 hand towels, 2 sheets, 2 pairs shorts, 2 T-shirts, 5 pairs of socks, 3 pillowcases, 2 men's shirts. This average 8-lb. load will take only 25 to 30 minutes.

Just 6¢ to dry an 8-lb. load of clothes the electric way. And the electric way is the completely automatic way. No igniting devices to get out of order.

Clothes dried in an electric dryer have the good fresh smell of all outdoors, too. Electric heat is radiant heat... like the sun. Clean and dry... with no combustion odors to mix with the clothes.

Electric dryers are fast. You can dry a whole load of cottons in just 25 to 30 minutes. And all the "no-vent" dryers are electric. Your laundry stays clean, dry and comfortable, makes venting unnecessary.

You'll be amazed when your electric appliance dealer tells you how little it costs to own an electric dryer. Why not see about it soon?

Rising Longevity Has Big Impact On Economic Value Of A Man

Spectacular achievements in the fields of health and longevity dramatized by the steady increase in the average length of life over the years, are having a profound economic as well as social influence on the American economy, according to data compiled by the U.S. Department of Labor.

The figures show that the average male child born in the United States in recent years not only has the prospect of a substantially longer life than his counterpart a generation ago along with a longer adolescent-educational period and more years to enjoy retirement. Increased longevity also provides a much longer working life than ever before.

Individual and Society Benefit

As far as the individual and the economy in general are concerned, two major results of a longer working life are—

It greatly increases the economic value of a man. This has already shown a big rise, thanks to the economic growth and prosperity of recent years, and is certain to increase in the future. Right now the average man starting out to earn his living has a prospective lifetime income in the neighborhood of $200,000, based on current conditions of employment, income and survival rates and their projection into the future.

Then, too, a longer working life is giving the country a powerful ally to help cope with the manpower production problems that have accompanied our dynamic economic growth and rising living standards over recent years.

A Historic Increase

The Labor Department figures show that the life expectancy of a male child at birth was up to a new high of 66½ years in 1955. This figure represented a gain of a full year since 1950, and was more than 5 years higher than as recently as 1940. The gain since 1900 amounts to more than 18 years, representing a rise of more than a third in the average prospective length of life of a man since the turn of the century, a period within the experience of millions alive today. In fact, according to Dr. Louis I. Dublin, consultant on health and welfare for the Institute of Life Insurance, the gain in this relatively short period approximates the total increase in the longevity of men in all previous history back to the Roman Empire.

Much of the increased longevity has gone to extend the non-working period of the average human life. The average American youth, for example, with more time to grow up and to get an education, doesn't become a full time member of the labor force these days until his 18th or 19th year. With this, he has the prospect of a substantial period of retirement, now estimated at more than 6 years on the average and expected to grow steadily in the coming years.

Besides, retirement these days is marked by increasing security and financial independence through the widespread ownership of life insurance, pension and retirement benefits, and other savings. The average youth under the conditions of a generation or two ago had nothing even remotely approaching such opportunities.

Impact on Production

However, the greater part of the increase in longevity over recent decades has gone into raising the overall potential production of the population through extending the average man's working life. The figures show that the work life expectancy of a male child at birth in 1955 was up to a new high of 42 years. While little changed from 1950, this figure was 3.7 years greater than in 1940, a rise of almost a tenth in a decade and a half. It was practically 10 years, or nearly a third, higher than it was in 1900. The figures indicate even greater gains for women, who have become a steadily increasing force in the working population.

Bureau of the Census figures indicate that the prospective lifetime income of the average man figured out at $133,000 in 1949, projected on the basis of employment and other conditions existing at that time. Since then, the average annual money income of a man has gone up more than 50 per cent, according to the latest Census figures, thus bringing the total prospective earnings of an average man up to $200,000 level. Education boosts this average lifetime earning power greatly.

With a man's worth to his family and to society so much greater today than ever before, more individual and family protection is a natural development. This has manifested itself in record ownership of life insurance, with about $450 billions now in force, and in the big growth in other savings and in pension and retirement plans.

Women drivers were involved in 4,900 fatal accidents during 1956. More than 42,000 men fell into that category. There are about 22 million registered women drivers, 85 million men.

Auto accidents kill more persons under 65 years of age than any other type of accident, the National Safety Council says.

U. of I. Food Report

Pronounced price declines for most fruits and vegetables present the widest range of produce values seen in metropolitan retail food stores in several weeks.

Reasonably steady priced, widening value meat and poultry situations, and generally unchanged grocery lines round out the major-food picture in the University of Illinois consumer service weekly survey of wholesale and retail market trends.

Clearing weather over much of the cold, wet produce growing area is attributed to the improved supply-price position. Indicative of the downturn: cabbage that was 2 lb. for 15c now down to 5c per pound, broccoli at 35c down to 19c a bunch, and head lettuce at 25c now quoting 19c in more stores. Most other vegetables moved proportionately except carrots, which have been high and this week move higher. On the short supply, high price side too are green beans and sweet corn.

Bananas return to the fruit bargain list for the first time in weeks, dropping from a typical 19c to 15c per pound this week. Apples strike a firmer price tone, Washington Golden Delicious being at the high side of the price scale. Midwest Delicious, Jonathans, Greenings and McIntosh are the continuing bargains. Overall 5% greater citrus production pegs oranges and grapefruit as definite values.

These factors for the week ending Nov. 2 set up a fresh fruits and vegetables schedule of top values for November as follows, the asterisk (*) denotes this the peak supply month:

Fruit — apples, avocados, bananas, casaba melons*, coconuts*, cranberries*, dates*, grapefruit, grapes, kumquats, papayas*, pears, persimmons*, pomegranates*, tangerines.

Vegetables — artichokes*, broccoli, brussels sprouts*, cabbage, cauliflower, celery*, endive, escarole*, leeks and green onions, lettuce, mushrooms*, parsnips, potatoes*, squash, sweet potatoes, yams*.

In the meat department, wholesale beef went up roughly 5%, with exception of loins from which come better cuts of sirloins, porterhouse and club steaks — the better beef values this week. Consumers will find full cut pork loin roasts a little lower priced in more stores, reflecting fresh roast and chop values. In cured pork items, bacon will be found at real cheap prices. Hams, butts and picnics are a little higher than a week ago. More veal of better quality is available without major price change. Lamb leg roasts will cost a little more.

Poultry action centers on continuing cheap turkey, with frying chickens sagging slightly to command more consideration than last week. Eggs continue at higher levels, medium sizes continuing as the market buy as a fitting breakfast companion for low-cost bacon.

The selective shopper can do seasonally all-right in grocery lines which are generally unchanged. But price tags in non-food items reflect some of the new costs of doing business, such as a penny or two added to soaps, for instance, to offset some promotion cost factors.

MONEY AND BANKING In Everyday Living

HUNTING EQUIPMENT for house-hunters: A tape measure, for an accurate appraisal of whether and how each house you visit will accommodate your furnishings; a pad and pencil, for on-the-spot memoranda. Experience indicates that, so equipped, you will avoid wasting time on extra return visits — time during which another family might snap up the house that is just right for you.

"AT THE END OF MY BUSINESS DAY," a storekeeper, who is also our depositor, was heard to ask recently, "what do I do with my cash receipts? Worry about 'em, that's all, 'til the bank opens next morning. Checks I bank by mail, but I won't mail cash unless I can register the letter—and by the time I'm ready to close up shop, the post office is closed, too." A simple solution for any depositor of ours with this problem: Make use of our night depository—an "extra teller's window" round the clock—and the safety it provides.

IN TWO WAYS, a restrictive endorsement on a check drawn to your order protects you. The words "For deposit only," followed by your regular banking signature, rule out the possibility of loss of the proceeds through further endorsement; through your own bad luck in misplacing your wallet or purse after cashing the check... In many, many ways, it pays to have a checking account at the bank!

All New Chevrolet For 1958 Announced

Dramatic new styling and outstanding engineering advances mark the 1958 Chevrolet which makes its bow this week.

Labeled "the car of the year" by newsmen and technical writers who have attended private showings, the new model will be unveiled Thursday (October 31) in Chevrolet dealerships across the country.

Also on public display for the first time will be the rakish 1958 Corvette and the latest in the Chevrolet truck line.

The 1958 Chevrolet is new from bumper-to-bumper and from frame to roof line. The all-new features include:

A completely re-styled car which is longer, lower and wider and emphasizes flowing sculptured lines from the dual headlamps to softly flared rear fenders.

An X-shaped frame which allows a lower silhouette but retains ample head room and increases leg room and luggage space.

Two suspension systems for a more luxurious ride along with remarkable handling, stability and durability. Sturdy coil springs, front and rear, are standard. A new "Level Air" system which automatically adjusts to all load weights is optional. A 348-cubic inch engine which is new from fan to flywheel. Designed primarily around a new combustion chamber, the optional Turbo-Thrust V-8 offers greater torque for improved mid-range performance.

Tax Facts

"Smoke rings we blow" may mean dreams of yesterday, but to government today these smoke rings mean one more way of paying for the high cost of government.

In Illinois the "take" to the State amounted to $33.8 million for the year just ended. In addition, the Federal government received $89.6 million from the sale of cigarettes in Illinois. In fact 1/3 of the cost of a package of cigarettes in Illinois goes for the cost of government, according to figures of the Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois.

The Federal tax of 8c a pack goes to the Federal treasury and there loses its identity. Of the 3c State tax, 1c goes to help repay the cost of the World War II bonus and 2c goes to support the State's general activities (such as school aid, colleges, relief, etc.).

The Illinois cigarette tax will take another jump of 1c if the Korean Veteran bonus is approved at the general election of November, 1958. This bonus provides for a $75 million bond issue to be retired from proceeds of the increased cigarette tax. If this should prove to be insufficient, it is backed by the State's full faith and credit.

If approved, the total Illinois tax on cigarettes will be 4c and the pack-a-day smoker will be adding $43.80 a year to the bills of the Federal and State governments.

At that, the Illinois smoker's dreams should be more pleasant than the nightmare smokers in Montana and Louisiana must have from the 8c State cigarette taxes of those states — there the annual take for a pack-a-day man is $58.40.

If you want to sell — phone 43 or 44 and tell.

Early Darkness Causes More Driving Hazards

October began the season of extra hazards on the highway. During this month, nights become longer and weather conditions become adverse for driving. During October, November, and December, 1956, there were 619 people killed in traffic accidents in Illinois.

This record can be cut this year. Since adoption of the maximum speed limit and increase in the state police force, traffic fatalities have been reduced markedly. As of June 30, Illinois' traffic fatalities were 10% above the same period of 1956.

In comparison with 1956, decreases of 26% in July, 17% in August and 30% in September have brought the record down from 10% INCREASE for the first six months to a 3%

DECREASE for the first nine months.

To hold the line and continue the reductions in fatalities, motorists will have to be extra careful during the next three months and compensate for the added hazards of night and winter driving.

Following are some rules from the Illinois Division of Traffic Safety, for motorists to follow during these months—and all year round:

1. Slow down at Sundown. Obeying posted limits is not enough. Speed must be governed by conditions and darkness is a condition calling for caution.

2. Have your car checked frequently. Be sure all lights are in order. Brakes that respond quickly are more important at night.

3. Be alert for pedestrians and vehicles without lights or dim lights.

4. Do not wear tinted glasses at night. They reduce your vision.

5. Use headlights properly. Use lower beam when approaching cars are within 1000 feet. Always dim when following another car within 300 feet and when driving in cities and towns.

6. Dim your headlights even if the other fellow doesn't. Trying to get even by blinding him is only asking for trouble. Guide your car by looking at the right edge of the pavement or at the right shoulder of the highway.

7. Don't move your car at night until all lights are on.

8. Never stop on the traveled portion of a highway at night. If you must stop pull off the road and leave parking and dome lights on.
